|---------------|---------------------------|--------------------|
| Advantages    |                           |                    |
| Disadvantages |                           |                    |

- cost-effective as the group can split the bill.
- lack of social interaction and companionship \ potential for loneliness or isolation
- can expose you to new cuisines and restaurants that you may not have discovered on your own.
- time for self-reflection and relaxation
- there may be a temptation to overeat or indulge in unhealthy foods, which can have negative health consequences.
- opportunity to enjoy the meal without distractions
- possible feelings of sadness or depression if eating alone becomes a regular habit

Suggested answers for Speaking Part 3. Task 2:

1. I almost never skip meals. I think it's really unhealthy. A regular diet is very important to me.
2. I buy organic food daily. I think it's the healthiest option. Such food is easy to digest.
3. Yes. I once tried oysters. It was disgusting. I was with my friends in Zaryadye Park food court. The place was really nice, though. I was there two years ago.
4. I eat fast food once a month. I do it because I'm in a hurry and I don't have much time to eat.
5. I guess I would open a salad bar. There are lots of recipes for salads that I know and I hardly ever see such salads in shops or restaurants.

Sample answer:

Hi Lida. I've found two suitable photos for our project "Mealtime" and I'd like to tell you about them.

I believe both of the pictures are perfectly suitable because they both illustrate people having lunch. In the first picture there's a group of friends sitting around a table, probably, in a café. They are eating pizza, talking and smiling. In the second picture, there's a man sitting in front of a notebook. He has some salad on his table but he's not eating, he's looking at his watch. A notable difference between the photos is that we can see fast food in the first picture, whereas the food in the second picture is healthy.

There are some obvious advantages of having meals in both of the ways. If you are with your friends, it's usually more fun and exciting than having a meal on your own. Besides, it could be cost-effective, as you can split the bill. Having a meal on your own also has some upsides. You have an opportunity to enjoy your meal without distraction and have some time to think about your life.

There are also some disadvantages of the two ways of having meals. It can be quite noisy and overwhelming to eat in a group of people. Moreover, the noise could impede communication. Eating alone could bring the feeling of sadness, especially if it becomes a regular habit.

As for me, I would prefer to have lunch with my friends. I like sharing meals with others and it's a great opportunity to catch up.

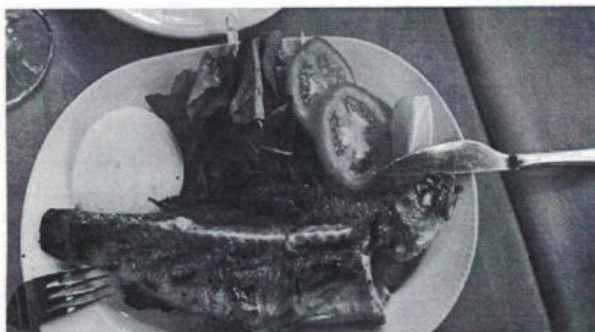

I hope you like the choice of the photos I've found. Call me back.

Suggested answer for Speaking Part 4. Task 2

Hello Sveta, it's Masha. Listen, I've found two nice pictures for our project "Healthy diet" I'll describe them to you so that we could make up our minds on whether to use them or not.

For me, the pictures are highly suitable as there are two types of meals presented in them. In the first picture, I can see some grilled fish with vegetables on a plate. The second picture shows some French fries and a wrap. There is also some ketchup. The difference between the pictures is obvious: in the first one, there's a healthy meal whereas in the second one I can see fast food.

I can name some advantages of the two types of food. If you eat a healthy plate, you get all necessary vitamins and you feel good. Eating fast food is good when you are in a hurry. You don't have to wait much time for the meal to cook.

However, there are some disadvantages as well. Healthy food like fish usually costs a lot and you need to cook it yourself or pay even more in a restaurant. Eating fast food is really unhealthy and you usually feel terrible once you've eaten some.

When I was a child, I preferred fast food, especially French fries. They tasted so good and I loved the crust. My parents fed me at fast food restaurants once a month.

That's all I wanted to tell you about the pictures. Call me back in the evening. Bye.

Sample answer for Writing an email. Task 1

Dear Jack,

Thanks for your email. It's so nice to hear from you.

In your email you asked me some questions about my school meals. I'll happily tell you about it. We get different food at school for lunch. For example, we may be given pasta, soup or rice with chicken. I adore everything they give me. I usually feel so hungry that I can eat like a horse. My favourite food is Caesar salad and I can cook it myself. I sometimes make it for dinner at home.

It's such interesting news that your brother is going to Nepal. I've never been to this country. How long is he staying there? Is he going alone? Is he going to have a holiday there or is he going on business?

Hope to hear from you soon.

Love,

Pasha

Answer for Writing an email. Organisation

Dear Peter, (the wrong name)

Thanks for your letter. I'm so happy to hear from you again. You asked me some questions about food. (should be in the next paragraph)

My favourite type of cuisine is Japanese. I love eating sushi. I would definitely recommend a chain restaurant next door. It's called "Yakitoria". Do you have one in your city? As for me, (the author has been talking about themselves, so this linker is irrational) I don't have any allergies or weight problems so I don't have any dietary restrictions. Moreover, (not a suitable linker as the sentences are on different topics.) I prefer organic food to fast food.

Wow. (not an appropriate transition – may be substituted with "By the way, it's great that you're going to celebrate your mom's birthday party"). How many guests are going to come? Are you celebrating it at home or in a restaurant? What food are you going to eat?

Hope to hear from you soon.

All the best, (should be on a new line)

Mark

Sample answer for Writing Task 38. Task 2:

People all over the world have different preferences in terms of food. I am currently doing a project on what kind of food is popular among teenagers in Zetland. I have found some results of a survey in the form of a table and I want to comment on my findings.

As can be seen in the data, almost the same number of the teenagers like eating dairy products and fish (15% and 14%) respectively. 6% of the respondents say that they eat vegetables quite often.

Predictably, more than twice as many of the adolescents choose meat to be eaten (45%) as those who say that eggs are the most popular kind of food (20%). This is probably because when you are 13-19 years old, you still have a developing organism and meat helps your body grow. Eggs are the second most popular kind of food and it is also highly beneficial for teenagers.

Unfortunately, some people sometimes consume only specific types of food, which could result in a problem of getting an insufficient number of specific elements or vitamins. To tackle the problem, one should analyse their blood samples and find out whether there is a lack of specific nutrients and take appropriate food supplements.

In conclusion, I believe that a balanced diet and healthy food are of utmost importance to everyone. They help a person maintain a good energy level during the day and stay healthy.
