Modern art has undergone significant changes compared to the art of the past. One of the most notable differences is the use of new materials and techniques. For example, modern artists often use new technologies such as digital tools and 3D printing to create their work. In addition, modern art is often more conceptual and focuses on ideas rather than traditional techniques. This has led to the emergence of new forms of art such as installation art, video art, and performance art. In contrast, the art of the past was often more focused on traditional techniques and materials such as painting, sculpture, and drawing. The focus was often on creating realistic depictions of people, landscapes, and objects. The subject matter of the past art was more traditional and usually religious, mythological, and historical. All in all, modern artists are more independent, which has led to a greater diversity of styles and themes in modern art.

Answers for Speaking Part 4. Task 1

Hi, Sasha. I've finally found two pictures for our project "Modern Museums and Galleries." Now, I'm ready to tell you what's in the pictures and other important things for our project.

I believe we should use the pictures because there are people in a museum and an art gallery. In the first picture, there is a museum hall. It's a science museum. There are lots of people and a skeleton of a dinosaur. The second photo depicts\illustrates\shows a man standing in front of a painting and looking at it. The difference between the pictures is in the way people are observing the exhibits: with other people, maybe during a guided tour, or alone.

There are certain advantages of observing the exhibits in both of the ways. When you are with other people, it's more fun. You can ask a guide some questions. If you are alone, no one disturbs you and you can look at the exhibits for as long as you wish.

I can also state that there are some disadvantages. If there are lots of people around, it's usually noisy. It's difficult to concentrate and you may get tired quickly. When you are on your own, there is no one to ask any questions, so you do not learn much.

When I was a child, I preferred to look at objects in museums and art galleries with my friends and with a guide. I acquired\got knowledge and spent time with people I liked at the same time.

That's it. Call me back.

Speaking Part 4. Task 2

Imagine that you are and your friend doing a school project “50 years of fashion trends – how fashion has changed through the time”. You have found some photos to illustrate it but for technical reasons you cannot send them now. Leave a voice message to your friend explaining your choice of the photos and sharing some ideas about the project. In 2.5 minutes be ready to:

- mention the advantages (1–2) of the two types of fashion trends;
- mention the disadvantages (1–2) of the two types of fashion trends;
- express your opinion on the subject of the project – which type of clothes presented in the pictures you prefer and why.

You will speak for not more than 3 minutes (12–15 sentences). You have to talk continuously.

Sample answer for Speaking Part 4. Task 2

Hi Sofia. I have found two pictures for the project we're both doing "50 years of fashion trends – how fashion has changed through the time". I'd like to tell you about the pictures.

I think they are both suitable as they both show trends now and in the past. In the first picture, there is a woman sitting on the chair with a book in her hands. She's wearing a smart greet suit. In the second picture, I can see a group of people celebrating something or having a party. They are wearing hippie costumes and glasses. The difference between the pictures is obvious: in the first picture, the suit is of one colour, while in the second photo all the clothes are really colourful.

There are some advantages of the two types of fashion trends. If you wear a smart suit, you can visit any occasions in it. It's suitable for both formal and general meetings. Speaking about colourful clothes, they lift people's mood. In addition, if a person wears such clothes, he or she attracts a lot of attention.

However, there are also certain disadvantages of wearing the two types of clothes. Smart suits could be too hot to wear in summer time, however, they are necessary to wear in very formal occasions. So, people may feel very uncomfortable. Hippie clothes are not trendy anymore, so people wearing them may be considered weird. Besides, sometimes there is a dress-code, for example, at work, so people will not be able to wear such clothes even if they like them.

Personally, I prefer wearing smart stylish clothes. I like looking good. I also think that people appreciate you more if you wear something nice.

That's all for now. What do you think about my choice of the photos? Call me back. Bye.

As can be seen in a\the table, the majority of - \ the respondents like wearing high-waisted jeans (42%). Approximately one fourth\ fifth of the adolescents consider cropped tops to be\being trendy (18%). 8% of the teenagers find bright-colored scarves fashionable.

Predictably, almost twice as many of the respondents prefer wearing oversized jackets (20%) as\than those who choose dresses with floral prints (12%). It seems logical as jackets could be worn by and\both male and female teenagers whereas\although dresses are mainly worn by only females.

Unfortunately, one of the problem\problems that can arise when people follow fashion trends is that it requires a lot of money. Such people need to buy new clothes all the time and may run into\up huge debts. Suggested answers for Writing Task 38. Task 2

Data to describe: 5%, 8% - almost one tenth, 17%

Data to compare: 46%, 24% - almost twice as many

Your comment: It seems reasonable as most people buy new clothes because theirs get old. Keeping up with fashion requires a great deal of money and not many people can afford that. This is probably why much fewer people do it in Zetland.
